OFFICIAL DATA ANALYSIS

Company Check-Up and Comment :

Registration Status: The company is currently active, which indicates a stable operational status.

Capital Structure: The registered capital is approximately 500,000 RMB, with two shareholders. One major shareholder holds 95% of the shares, which may lead to governance concerns and concentration risk.

Changes in Capital: Recent changes, such as a reduction in registered capital from 1,000,000 RMB to 500,000 RMB, indicate potential issues in financial stability or operational focus. Monitoring is advisable for further fluctuations.

Judicial Records: There are no significant judicial issues detected, but continuous monitoring is necessary to ensure compliance and avoid future legal challenges.

Company Age: Established in December 2021, the company lacks a long track record, which could pose a risk regarding reliability and operational experience.

Location Risks: Based in Guangzhou, a major manufacturing hub, provides potential advantages in supply chain efficiency but may also expose the company to regional economic fluctuations.

Employee Information: The small number of employees suggests limited operational capacity, which might affect production timelines and responsiveness.

Business Changes: The company has undergone several changes in its business scope and structure, which may indicate a strategic pivot. Such flexibility can be positive but may require a period of adjustment and reestablishment of supplier relationships.

Overall Supplier Reliability: While there are positive indicators regarding operational status and lack of legal issues, the recent changes in capital structure, limited operational history, and employee count present risks. Therefore, caution is advised when considering this company as a supplier. It is recommended to conduct further due diligence to assess ongoing operational and financial stability.

Comment :
The company has a former company name Guangzhou Weiya furniture co.,Ltd. The company operates primarily as a trading entity, which explains the absence of production equipment. There is a discrepancy in the reported number of employees (10) versus those registered with social security (4), raising potential compliance concerns. Their reliance on an external partner for R&amp;D suggests limited internal capabilities. The lack of data on production capacity further highlights their non-manufacturing role. Verification of employee data and reliance on partners is recommended. The company provided their web site: https://viafurniture.en.made-in-china.com/

CONCLUSION

Qualification Summary :

Guangzhou Weiya Intelligent Furniture Technology Co., Ltd. presents several red flags that warrant cautious consideration. While the company is active and operational, with a broad business scope and a strategic location in Guangzhou, there are significant concerns about its transparency, operational reliability, and compliance.

1. Operational and Employee Discrepancies: The discrepancy between the reported number of employees and those registered with social security raises potential compliance issues. Additionally, the company's reliance on external partners for both R&D and manufacturing suggests limited internal capabilities and possible challenges in quality control and responsiveness.

2. Product Certification Concerns: The misrepresentation of product certification documents, specifically substituting another company's details with their own, is a severe breach of trust and integrity. This casts doubt on the company's ethical practices and reliability as a supplier.

3. Limited Operational History: Established in December 2021, the company has a short operational history, which limits its proven track record. Combined with a recent reduction in registered capital, this raises concerns about its financial stability and long-term viability.

Suggestions :

Given the issues with employee compliance, misrepresented certifications, and the overall lack of transparency, the risk associated with engaging this company as a supplier is high. It is strongly recommended to conduct further due diligence and consider alternative suppliers with more established and trustworthy records.

OVERALL RISK :

HIGH
